

WEEK 7 21/11

Dear Punters,

Another week, another small profit. Racing again was at Sandown Park with Whitey backing Eva's Charm in the 1st, it got 3rd but was no 3rd dividend. Then he backed North East Smile in the 3rd each way and that won paying $3.70 the win and $1.63 the place. He then backed Rhyno Chacer, (no good), in the 6th. Good stuff Whitey you get to bet again next week.

I backed Happy Glen, (no good), in the 5th and Viking Turf Belle, (no good), in the 7th $25 the win each which continues my tale of woe. I'll win one day.

Hobbo backed Poised To Win, (no good) in 6th $25 each way.

Helmo had 2 multi's on the American basketball (NBA) both were paying plenty but didn't come in. He got 2/10 in one and 6/10 in the other. Bad luck mate.

Flynn had 2 soccer multi's and they both came in to save the day. The 1st one was Chelsea, Manchester United, Swansea and Tottenham to all win, he had $40 on that one which paid $134.80. In his second multi he had Swansea, Chelsea, Man U and Tottenham to all win and a draw between Liverpool and Manchester City. He had his last $10 on that one which paid $111.40. Obviously he's been checking out the soccer form whilst in Pommy land. Good punting mate. Let's see if you can do it again next week.

Go the Punt, go multi's, go Tottenham.
